Whose game are we playing?

Herbert Thomas
Electronic Learning Media
Learning goals dictate the use of technology
“The medium is the message”
Marshall McLuhan

Sanctuary Presents

Seance

Hosted by Penny Dreadful and Garbo

The Endless Cynle
And Sagas Embrace
Enchant And Conjure Up
Beautiful Visions

Psychics
And Spectral Phantasms

Sunday, Sept 6
5:30 PM - 2 AM $5 18
@ The Dark Lady, Snow St, Providence, RI

Media are extensions of human sensory perception
Marshall McLuhan
“If a human mind can come to know, and if the human mind is, essentially, a network,...”

“then any network can come to know”

Stephen Downes

“Minimum amount of meaningful, non-random, but unpredictable information needed to characterize a system or process”

Ray Kurzweil
“We have massively plastic brains”
Michael Merzenich

References
Slide 1: Image: http://www.canterbury.ac.za
Slide 2:
First image: http://www.ufs.ac.za
Second image: http://www.canterbury.ac.nz
Slide 4:
Background image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/billward/3084194962/
Foreground image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/allencairns/51470897b/
Slide 5:
Image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/7394880@N04/3834234692/
Slide 6:
Image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/adjourned/481979345/
Slide 7:
Image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/adjourned/449616339/
Slide 9:
Image: http://www.flickr.com/photos/64476710@N00/4991822665/
Quotation: Carr, Nicholas. 2010. The shallows: what the Internet is doing to our brains. New York: W.W. Norton & Company Inc.

http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/